Scope and Content Note

Collection includes the student publication, Undergraduate Research Journal. The Undergraduate Research Journal began in 1998. Its mission statement reads: "The Undergraduate Research Journal is an interdisciplinary journal of undergraduate research written, edited, peer-reviewed, and published by the students of Indiana University South Bend. Submissions from all disciplines are accepted. Papers must be written by IUSB undergraduates, whether independently or for a class, and must be communicated to the journal by a faculty member from the appropriate discipline." Its first volume in 1998 was entitled Anansi's Gourd (with the Undergraduate Research Journal as its subtitle), and subsequent years have been entitled Undergraduate Research Journal. The publication (like the student newspaper, The Preface), is produced with student activities funds and comes under the supervision of the Publications Board, in part with the English Department.
